Compromise On Franco Developed In U N Meeting

U N Considers Compromise In Case Of Spain

Sessions Adjourned Until Monday Afternoon Before Voting On Compromise

RUSSIA SEEKS COMPLETE BREAK (BULLETIN)

NEW YORK, April 26.—(INS)—After several weeks of bickering, it took the United Nations Security Council just 16 minutes today to finally reach a compromise on its method of dealing with Franco Spain.

The compromise, which calls for appointment of a sub-committee to inquire further into charges that the Madrid Franco regime is creating international friction and endangering world peace, will not actually be voted on until Monday afternoon.

But its passage by at least a 10 to 1 vote was assured and it was possible even Soviet Russia might string along.

The compromise resolution further expresses "the moral condemnation" of the Franco regime in the Security Council.

And, an important point in the differences which have prevented action to date, the five-power sub-

PA NEW OBSERVES

At a home at Wallace avenue and Blaine streets last night, shortly after dark, a loud commotion was heard on the back porch. Investigation showed that a large parrot was on the porch, and it immediately streaked into the house when the door was opened. After a long effort the bird was corralled and placed in a box, where it is awaiting the owner. No one in the home had ever seen the parrot before.

By the number of out of town license plates spotted going through the city, Pa. New is of the opinion that the summer vacation rush must have officially started. Plates from the states of Washington, Florida and Louisiana were noted on cars passing through this area, Thursday afternoon.

Quite an interested crowd of spectators was gathered on the East Side Thursday afternoon, witnessing the unloading of several shiny new automobiles, that had been delivered from the factory to a local dealer. The cars were undergoing rigid inspection from the interested on-lookers.

R. E. Murtland, of Bessemer, is exhibiting a freak of the animal kingdom. Recently Mr. Murtland's cat, which is coal black with a white collar, gave birth to three kittens. One resembles the mother in its markings, but the other two are pure white.

Topcoats did a remarkable comeback today. Weather conditions were chilly, far from the balmy effects of recent weeks.

With the adoption of daylight savings time by New Castle city council yesterday, practically all of western Pennsylvania is now in line for summer observance of fast time. The new schedule goes into effect at 2 a. m. Sunday.

Nine Axis Subs Sunk Off Japan

KOBE, Japan, April 26.—(INS)—Nine Axis submarines including one 3,800-ton undersea craft, were sunk off Kobe today by the United States navy.

Naval officers puzzled over a Japanese 350-foot submarine which had a hangar deck capable of housing two airplanes, two periscopes and inch-thick armor plate. The giant submersible was launched in 1943, yet in two years of war never saw action.

The nine submarines sunk included two built in Italy which put in to Kobe with German crews for repairs in 1944. The remaining seven did not take part in the war.

Declares Lewis Seeks To Force Crisis On Nation

Soft Coal Operator Leader
Says Negotiations Not Likely To Resume For Week

WASHINGTON, April 26.—(INS)—Soft coal operators saw little chance today for a resumption of negotiations in the 26-day mine strike for another week or 10 days when the "pinch" of a fuel shortage begins to be felt strongly.

Edward R. Burke, president of the Southern Coal Producers Association, declared:

"The pinch of the strike will be pretty strong in another week or 10 days with many railroads running short of coal. The sooner we get to that point the better."

To Force Crisis

"Obviously, John L. Lewis has made up his mind not to talk about a contract until the country faces a crisis so he can try to force concessions he could not obtain otherwise."

Negotiations in the strike of 400,000 bituminous miners have been suspended since April 10, despite government efforts to break the deadlock over Lewis' safety, health and welfare fund demands.

Burke asserted that congress could hasten the signing of a new mine agreement by enacting legislation

Dependents Being Delayed In U. S. By Slow Passports

WASHINGTON, April 26.—(INS)—The Army notified with the State department today over what was termed "unexpected" delays in obtaining passports for dependents scheduled to join their soldiers overseas.

An Army Transportation Corps spokesman said that because of delays the first two ships carrying women and children to overseas theaters left port "less than two-thirds full."

The State department denied any slowness in handing out passports. A department spokesman said that a speed record already has been set, declaring:

"About 6,000 are coming in a month. We've got out a record number. It's an awful rush. We are getting them out as fast as it is possible."

The Army spokesman admitted that the State department was only two weeks behind the time when dependents could be on their way if passports were ready.

UN Employees Are Seeking Higher Pay

NEW YORK, April 26.—(INS)—Something has been added to today's busy United Nations program—a meeting of 600 UN employees with Secretary-General Trygve Lie to discuss demands for higher pay.

The meeting—first get-together of all UN employees—was called after workers abroad complained that their hotel and living expense allowances are not sufficient to maintain them.

Boy Is Drowned Near Zelienople

BUTLER, Pa., April 26.—(INS)—Authorities today said that Jack Letts, eight, was drowned and his companion, David Kennedy, 11, was cut about the knee when their home-made boat sprung a leak and sank in Connoquessing creek near their home at Zelienople. The two were crossing the creek with a boat load of brick when the accident occurred.

JUST ANOTHER 'PIN-UP' BOY

Adding his contribution to the vast collection of pins, buttons, and other objects at the Children's hospital, Boston, Mass., is 18-month-old Thomas Ethier. Nurse Olive Smimard holds him as he places his memento in the cabinet. The objects were all removed from the lavages and branchial tubes of children aided by the hospital.

President And Gen. Eisenhower Have Conference

WITH PRESIDENT TRUMAN, Off Quantico, Va., April 26.—(INS)—President Truman focused his attention today on vexing postwar problems in the vast areas of the recent global conflict in the Pacific.

The Chief executive halted his rest cruise on the Chesapeake Bay and Potomac river again to hold a lengthy conference with Dwight D. Eisenhower, Army chief of staff.

The announced subject of the discussions was the American Army in the Pacific.

Eisenhower going to Pacific

Eisenhower leaves tomorrow for a month's tour of Army installations throughout the Pacific areas.

Conceivably, the talks today would extend further than just routine matters concerning Army posts.

Edwin A. Locke, a newly appointed special assistant to the President, was also aboard the presidential yacht Williamsburg.

Locke is a Far Eastern expert and just recently completed an exhaustive report on China following a long visit there as special envoy for the President.

General Eisenhower motored down from Washington this morning to board the Williamsburg, which had arrived overnight in the Potomac off the Marine Corps base.

The President remained off Quantico, after anchoring here yesterday morning to motor to Washington for the funeral of Chief Justice Harlan Fiske Stone, in order to meet Eisenhower this morning.

Jefferson Street South-Bound Bus To Use North Street

Samuel L. Friedman, president of the Shenango Valley Transportation company, today reported a change in the southbound Jefferson street bus. The change becomes effective Sunday.

When the south bus arrives at North and North Jefferson street it will travel east on North street, south on North Mill street then west on East Washington street to North Jefferson street.

Passengers will transfer from it to any other bus they desire at Mill and Washington streets.

Application for the change in operations which was favored by council was granted by the PUC, word to this effect having arrived at the local bus company office today.

Blast Furnace At Lowellville Banked

SHARON, Pa., April 26.—(INS)—Sharon Steel corporation banked its blast furnace at Lowellville, O., today. Shortage of coke and coal was blamed for the shut-down.

Company officials announced that operations will continue at three open hearths and other departments. The company's Farrell plant remained closed but the Sharon hot mills continued operation.

Stopping off to chat a few minutes with the couple, who are both still active, a surprised News reporter found one of the two sons, Margaret, in the midst of her annual spring house cleaning, just as active as she was when she was much, much younger.

Big Four Parley Considers Issues Of Italian Peace

Begin First All Out Effort
To Shape Peace Treaties
With Axis Satellites

SOME OPTIMISM BEING REFLECTED

BULLETIN

PARIS, April 26.—(INS)—The foreign ministers of the United States, Great Britain, France and Russia, convened their second session at 4:35 p. m. (10:35 a. m. EST) today with the question of Italian reparations threatening to cause an immediate split.

Meeting again in the historic Victor Hugo room of flag-decked Luxembourg palace, the statesmen took up the Italian treaty as the first item on their agenda, and presumably tackled the knotty reparations problem shortly after they gathered around the conference table.

PARIS, April 26.—(INS)—Foreign ministers of the big four powers tackled specific issues involving Italy today as their first move in an all-out effort to shape peace treaties with five Axis satellites.

Delegates of the United States, Russia, Britain and France began their second-day of talks in an atmosphere of optimism inspired by the unexpected willingness of the Soviet Union to allow France to discuss all treaties on the agenda.

Russia had twice before foiled treaty-making attempts by insisting that France could be heard only in discussions with Italy, not with Hungary, Bulgaria, Romania and Finland.

Atmosphere Of Cheer

The fact that the U. S. has been permitted to discuss treaty negotiations with Poland added to the general atmosphere of cheer in Luxembourg palace today.

Two points stand out, however, to indicate stormy sessions ahead for the diplomats. First is the American suggestion that a treaty with Austria be studied. The second is the French demand for political separation from Germany of the Ruhr and Rhineland.

No decision was made on these two demands during the initial meeting and informed sources predict the Soviet delegation "is not prepared to accept the U. S. proposal."

The same sources agree it may take days of bargaining and counting.

Byrnes Declares Americans To Get Parley News

PARIS, April 26.—(INS)—U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes assured newsmen covering the big four foreign ministers conference today that the American public will receive a daily "fill-in" on what happens behind closed doors of Luxembourg palace.

Informed sources said Byrnes went to yesterday's session prepared to fight for more public disclosures than were permitted at previous meetings at London and Moscow.

However, no participant asked a news agency, Byrnes told International News Service.

"At London there was a general agreement to give no disclosures to the press. We stuck to the agreement, but others did not. As a result, the American position was grossly misrepresented."

WILL SEEK FUNDS FOR TIONESTA DAM

WARREN, Pa., April 26.—(INS)—Formal application for funds to build a dam on Tionesta creek will be made today by the Warren County Field and Stream committee.

Members of executive committee said they will ask the State Department of Forests and Water for $75,000 for the dam and recreation center.

Injured Victims Give Wreck Disaster Details

AURORA, Ill., April 26.—(INS)—Injured victims of the Burlington Railroad wreck at Naperville, Ill., revealed today the terror and fright which seized them as they were trapped in the rear car of the Advance Flyer when it was rammed by the Exposition Flyer.

Many were caught under twisted seats and wreckage, beneath bodies and luggage. Their first shock and dread was increased by the fear of fire as workmen trying to rescue them used acetylene torches. Sparks from the torches dropped into the car, adding to their terror.

One of the victims, Mrs. Irene Cook, 29, was on her way with her mother, Mrs. Florence Whitehouse, from Schenectady, N. Y., to a new home in Kahoka, Mo. Mrs. Cook said:

"I was in the rear car of the first train (The Advance Flyer). I was seated facing the approaching train, but it all happened so fast, I didn't see it clearly."

Thrown Into Air

"Suddenly I must have been thrown into the air because I remember hitting the seat twice with my head and waking up under a pile of people and seats. My mother

Gen. MacArthur Says Japanese Beginning To Show Cooperation

WASHINGTON, April 26.—(INS)—Gen. MacArthur reported to the war department today that the Japanese are beginning to trust and cooperate with the occupation forces.

MacArthur reported for the first time that black market activities were on the wane. The report, MacArthur's fifth on his stewardship of Japan and Korea covered the month of February.

The general noted that interest of the Japanese in politics was at a new high ebb.

Evidence points to a clarification in the thinking of the Japanese and the development of a sense of political responsibility.

"Japanese respect for the occupation forces is increasing," he said.

Freddie's Family Antagonistic To His New Bride

HOLLYWOOD, April 26.—(INS)—Newly-wedded Freddie Bartholomew, who married his press agent, she-evee Maely Daniele, in a Nevada elopement yesterday, faced a major job today in "winning" his bride to members of his family.

The young actor, once the screen's "Little Lord Fauntleroy," felt it "might take a little time" to win acceptance for what he proudly termed "the best wife in the world."

He said:

"Many of my friends have gone through similar experiences, but I have noticed their mothers get used to the situation."

Byrnes Declares Americans To Get Parley News

PARIS, April 26.—(INS)—U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes assured newsmen covering the big four foreign ministers conference today that the American public will receive a daily "fill-in" on what happens behind closed doors of Luxembourg palace.

Informed sources said Byrnes went to yesterday's session prepared to fight for more public disclosures than were permitted at previous meetings at London and Moscow.

However, no participant asked a news agency, Byrnes told International News Service.

"At London there was a general agreement to give no disclosures to the press. We stuck to the agreement, but others did not. As a result, the American position was grossly misrepresented."

Says Italy Should Be Given Trieste

NEW YORK, April 26.—(INS)—Italy's claim to Trieste received strong support today from Charles Poletti, former governor of New York who spent two years in Italy with the allied military government.

Poletti declared Italy can't be expected to agree to a peace treaty which does not give her Trieste, and said the Italians are entitled to a substantial U. S. loan.

His views, expressed at a rally in honor of the 1945 partisan revolt in northern Italy, were endorsed by Albert Tarchiana, Italian ambassador to the U. S., who spoke briefly.

Rail Crackup In History
Of Chicago Area

SPEEDING TRAIN HITS HALTED TRAIN

(BULLETIN)

NAPERVILLE, Ill., April 26.—(INS)—The toll of dead in the crash of two Burlington railroad flyers rose to 43 known victims today and 75 others were listed as injured.

Emergency crews searched the broken coaches for other possible dead.

The crash—the most disastrous railroad wreck in the history of railroading in the Chicago area—occurred yesterday afternoon 23 miles to the west of the midwest metropolis.

The fast Exposition Flyer, consisting of nine cars went grinding into the rear of the advance flyer at 85 miles an hour. The latter section had stopped to cool a boiler.

Probe Under Way

The FBI and other authorities instituted a multiple-investigation into the crash as the engineer, W. W. Blaine, of Galesburg, Ill., was served with a warrant charging manslaughter.

Blaine, who suffered only minor head lacerations, reportedly told States Attorney Lee Daniels of Du Page county:

"We were going too fast. I guess" Blaine said he made every effort

Lie-Detector Test For Alleged Slayer

ST. LOUIS, April 26.—(INS)—St. Louis police were to administer lie detector tests today to Claiborne L. Richardson who, for the second time, repudiated statements he had signed in which he "admitted" the Thanksgiving day killing of nine-year-old Shirley Jean Coxey.

Richardson said he signed a confession yesterday because "I was tired of being questioned and I wanted to get some rest." He added:

"I never touched the girl."

"I figured I might as well say it and get some sleep."

Richardson was arrested early this week on the complaint of a relative that Richardson annoyed two children to whom he was related. He "confessed" then repudiated his alleged confession, "confessed" again yesterday and today had denied the second statements.

Phillips To Retire

HARRISBURG, April 26.—(INS)—John A. Phillips, of Philadelphia, today announced he will retire as president of the Pennsylvania Industrial Union Council (CIO) during the state convention at Pittsburgh next week.

Jap Lieutenant Hanged For War Camp Treatment

TOKYO, April 26.—(INS)—Lieutenant Kai Yuri former Japanese prison camp commandant convicted of the bayonet murder of an American soldier, was hanged today as the first war criminal executed in Japan.

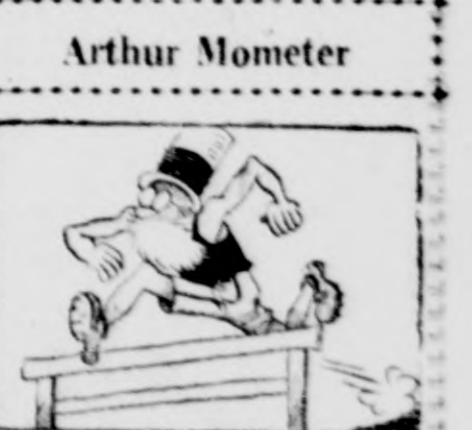

Yuri was put to death on the gallows in Tokyo's Sugamo prison where he had been confined since he was sentenced to death January 7 by a U. S. military court.

The young Japanese officer was found guilty of bayoneting to death Army Private Noah C. Heard, of Salinas, Cal., at the Omura prison camp. He was also held responsible for the death of Marine Corporal James G. Pavlosky, of Chicago, who died of mistreatment and starvation.

Courthouse Cupid Pleads No Defense

PITTSBURGH, April 26.—(INS)—Justice of the Peace J. Dale Gamble, of nearby Oakdale, third of the "courthouse cupids" to be tried on a conspiracy charge, today pleaded no defense and was fined $240.

Judge Henry Ellenbogen suspended sentence after Gamble, a clerk in the County Treasurer's office, admitted prepaying five marriage license applications to evade the three-day waiting period. He also admitted overcharging on legal fees.

Now, these are the days of the track and field, when the athlete's jump and prance, when long-legged fellows get out and sprint, all dressed up in funny pants. When the shot-put giant is ready to go and the pole vaulter flexes his muscles, and the coach is back in the dressing room, inviting the squad to hustle. Hurdles and dashes and javelin huris, and kids all set for their date, of these are the days for the track and field, and the weather is fifty-eight.

Predict Increase In Production Of Cotton Clothing

C.P.A. Forecasts Increase As Result Of Greater Output Of
Cotton Fabrics

WASHINGTON, April 26.—(INS)—The civilian production administration today forecast an increase in the production of cotton clothing as a result of a "continuing upward trend" in the output of cotton fabrics.

The agency reported that the output of cotton fabrics during the first three months of the year was two billion, 270 million yards. A total production of two billion, 240 yards was forecast for April, May and June.

In announcing the boost in cotton fabric output, CPA said: "This added production should soon make itself felt in the apparel and other cotton fabric fields."

The agency also moved to check a growing shortage of work clothing. It ordered cotton fabrics set aside for industrial use be made available to manufacturers of work clothing.

CPA also took action to halt diversion of woven striped bed ticking needed in the production of bedding to non-essential uses. It ordered 75 per cent of the material available set aside for industrial and agricultural purposes during May and June.

not limited to Petrillo or Lewis, but making it illegal for any union to demand an excise tax on the products of industry."

The southern operators said the mine owners will not change their position of opposition to Lewis' demand for a 10 cents a ton "royalty" on coal to be paid to the union treasury for a welfare fund for miners.

Willing to Negotiate
Burke said coal operators were willing to negotiate on a joint union-industry basis, administered by an independent agency, but the operators want the right to "raise our contribution in our own way."

He estimated that Lewis' 400,000 miners are losing five million dollars a day in the strike, including the 12½ cent hourly wage boost previously offered by the operators but rejected by Lewis until the health, safety and welfare issues are settled.

The southern coal official predicted that the UMW president eventually will present his "real demand" which will call for "an increase in wages sufficiently higher than anything obtained by CIO to leave no doubt that Lewis is the most powerful labor leader in the country."

was buried beneath another seat, a man and a woman.

"There was much screaming and I was as frightened when rescued as when the crash occurred."

"The men came with their torches through the top of the car and the sparks fell. We were afraid they would ignite oil in the car. One of my legs was caught under something, but I pulled it free and moved around putting out the sparks as they fell."

"Even before the rescuers started working, we were frightened by the smell of ashes. I was taken out a window."

Mrs. Whitehouse, who had been living at Cohoes, N. Y., was taken to a hospital in Aurora. She suffered a leg amputation.

Witnessed Crash
Miss Rose Hodel, 21, was hanging up clothes for her mother in the yard of their Naperville home when the Advance Flyer drew to a stop on the nearby track. She remarked:

"It's unusual for the train to stop there unless it has a hotbox or something, so I stood there and watched the men go around and look at the wheels."

"About that time there was another train coming and I happened to look up that way. Suddenly there was a terrific crash and debris flew up in the air."

Miss Hodel said that for some time everything near the wreck was obscured by dust, smoke and flying paper. Then she and some of her neighbors hurried to the tracks. She added:

"The whole thing looked to me like one mass of piled up tin. Injured persons were lying all around. They had an awful time getting them out of the wreckage."

"There was just a little mourning because most of those who were hurt were so badly injured they didn't feel it, or were unconscious. It took about an hour and a half to get all the injured out."

committee is instructed to "determine what practical measures the United Nations may take" if it finds that the Fascist government of Franco actually is menacing world peace and security.

The session opened at 11:08 a. m., EST.

Three-Way Split

There had been a three-way split on treatment of Franco Spain, with Russia leading a fight for collective severance of diplomatic relations with Madrid; an Anglo-American-Australian bloc seeking appointment of a five-power sub-committee to look further into charges against Franco; and Poland, France and Mexico agreeing to such a committee—provided, however, it brings back specific recommendations for action.

French Ambassador Henri Bonnet and Lt. Col. W. R. Hodgson, the Australian delegate, breakfasted together this morning in a last-minute effort to bring all factions together.

Chairman Hefez Afifi promptly brought up the Spanish issue and recognized the Australian delegate.

Compromise Suggested
Hodgson reported that he had met with Franco and Poland, and that he was pleased to report success in reaching a compromise.

Hodgson read a resolution calling for appointment of a sub-committee to inquire further as to whether the Franco regime was creating international friction and threatening world peace and security.

This committee would be instructed to find out such to be the case, to then consider "what action the Security Council should take."

The resolution took specific note of "the moral condemnation" of Franco Spain by the Security Council, in the light of declaration at San Francisco, London and New York.

Vote Is Deferred

The sub-committee would report at the earliest possible moment.

Mexican delegate De La Cerna promptly moved that a vote be deferred until 3 p. m. Monday so all delegates could consult their home governments.

This was agreed upon.

Brazilian Ambassador Pedro Veloso took his seat at the council table with a bandage over his nose and part of his forehead. He was in a minor taxi accident last night. His colleagues congratulated him that it had been no worse.

Chairman Afifi then brought up a report from the council's credentials committee. It was adopted without debate.

He adjourned the council until 3 p. m. Monday.

Soviet Russia remained adamant in her demand that the world powers break off diplomatic relations with Franco Spain. Andrei Gromyko, the Soviet spokesman, contended that enough evidence already was before the council to indict Madrid's Fascist regime. He is expected to vote against appointment of a fact-finding committee.

TWO BURLINGTON TRAINS IN CRASH NEAR CHICAGO

to bring the speeding train to a stop, but the distance was too short and it roared on through a stop signal at high speed and into the halted train.

Witnesses described how the diesel-powered locomotive ripped through the steel coach of the advanced flyer and on into the next car, a diner. Mangled, twisted bodies were literally squeezed out of the wreckage and others were hurled for distances on the right-of-way from the demolished cars.

Bodies Horribly Crushed

Four other cars of the advance flyer were thrown off the rails and overturned. Several cars of the Exposition Flyer left the rails but remained upright.

Early today relatives of the dead or of the unaccounted for persons who were aboard the trains gathered at three undertaking establishments in Naperville.

There were horribly torn and crushed bodies—some decapitated and others legless or armless.

Thirty-eight bodies had been removed from the wreckage. Thirteen of the bodies were those of women, two were children, and the others men.

Four of the victims died of injuries after they were taken to hospitals at nearby Aurora, Ill.

A recap of the accident from the time the two trains pulled out of the Chicago Union Station three minutes apart to the time of the crash at 1:03 p. m. yesterday was given by railroad officials.

BIG FOUR PARLEY CONSIDERS ISSUES OF ITALIAN PEACE

ter-barring before the delegations indicate how much give-and-take they are prepared to engage in. Observers point out that much depends on what instructions V. M. Molotov brought with him from Moscow.

Western Allied nations have been split with Russia over its demands for heavy reparations from Italy. Other lingering points of discord involve Soviet insistence on sole trusteeship over Tripolitania and the awarding of Trieste to Yugoslavia.

Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, Republican delegate to the fact-finding conference, summed up what lies before the delegates to get on.

"There was a good deal of controversy at the first session. But it is too early to determine whether the Russians came here to get an agreement or not."

Seek To Include Issues
Paris, April 26.—The United States and Britain will side with France today at the foreign ministers' conference and press for inclusion of the German problem in the agenda.

Informal sources said French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, acting upon instructions of the Paris cabinet, will insist that Germany's internal structure must be considered as part of the general European peace settlement.

It was also understood that U. S. Secretary of State James Byrnes will strive again to include a treaty for Austria in the discussions.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov indicated yesterday he felt the German and Austrian questions should be set aside for the time being while the council confined its deliberations to peace treaties for Italy, Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria and Finland.

pation forces has increased and suspicion and mistrust are giving way to cooperation."

MacArthur praised the government for its "unequivocal and extensive" application of his purge directives.

Communists Active

He said, however, that Japanese communists are taking advantage of the confusion caused by this action "to weaken their position."

In compliance with the purge, the government ruled about 90 per cent of the Diet members ineligible for re-election and ordered 120 political organizations dissolved.

Despite heightened interest in politics, MacArthur pointed out that Japanese women "have little political consciousness."

Among references to communism was the statement by MacArthur that the party disapproved of the emperor's new social activities while most Japanese seemed to welcome the change.

MacArthur also told the war department that leaders of the communist party declined to participate in formation of a body in south Korea to advise on establishing an interim government.

In Japan, the supreme commander for the allied powers noted improvements in coal mining and in iron and steel production.

He said that although the food situation still was "stringent," drastic action was taken during the month to increase food collections and to curb inflation.

NAME DIRECTORS
FOR CASTLETON

of New Castle. There are a few stockholders who have asked when a dividend would be paid. It has been the thought of the directors that it would be the course of wisdom to get the hotel out of debt before any dividends were paid.

There was a time not so many years ago when the bond holders were pressing for principal payments, and for a time it looked that they might even foreclose.

Get Free of Debt
"Such a condition might happen again and we believe the first thing to do is to free the hotel from debt. Since the beginning of the war it has been impossible to get furniture, linens, beds, carpets, glassware and the other articles needed to keep the hotel up to its high standard. Soon it will be possible to get these things and just as soon as it is possible the hotel should be refurnished. With the debt out of the way and the hotel put into first class condition, dividends will come."

Other Remarks

A number of the stockholders spoke upon the condition of the hotel and especially with respect to its financial condition. A large part of the credit for this was given to the president of the board, P. J. Flaherty, who re-organized the hotel in its dark days, installed a system of cost accounting and put the hotel on a sound business basis.

Howard R. Richards, one of the organizers of the hotel idea, who has returned to New Castle to live, was present and spoke briefly.

Joseph J. O'Brien, the manager was presented to the stockholders and told of his nine months' experience as manager. The Castleton would be a first class hotel in any community in which you place it," said he. "Right now we are rushed. In the first 24 days of April there were 3000 guests stopped at The Castleton. Our dining room has been improved, and when it is possible to get material to refurbish it, the hotel will be an outstanding one in this district."

The indications are for a good year for The Castleton. The first four days of every week sees rooms at a premium and every week every available inch of guest space is occupied through Thursday. The hotel is the center of civic gatherings, and by now is "the place to meet" in New Castle.

The vote for directors was the heaviest in years. Out of 4815 shares of stock there was representation by the owners or by proxy, 4023, this being the number of votes cast.

PITTSBURGH—Police had a new one to figure when 11-year-old Murray Sasser reported that another youth had forced him to hand over his wrist watch and then had sped away on a spotted pony.

STROUSS HIRSHBERG STORE ANNUAL EVENT

Approximately 150 employees of the Strauss-Hirshberg local store gathered for their annual gala store party Thursday evening at The Castleton, the event being one of the most delightful dinner parties held this season.

Starting at 7 o'clock a delicious full course turkey dinner was served on long tables, with the Easter theme predominating. Places were marked with tiny Easter baskets, the names of the employees and guests written on the Easter eggs. Lovely bouquets of spring flowers, sweetpeas and carnations were used to decorate the tables and table centerpiece; with tall, tapering candles flanking on either side. The group ate by candlelight.

Jack Huston, manager of the store, presided at close of the meal and introduced the speakers: C. J. Strauss, president, of Youngstown; J. V. Thompson of Youngstown, and the special guests: A. W. Einstein, J. S. Meyer, B. Mittenhall, all of Youngstown; W. B. Polay, R. B. Kerr, Mary Poree and Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Morris, all of Warren, O. Mr. Morris was recently discharged from service.

Pep singing was enjoyed as the group exercised their vocal cords after dinner with Mary Harvard leading, and Jack Huston accompanying on the piano.

The entertaining program followed with Louis Rosenblum, assistant manager, capably taking charge as master of ceremonies.

Margie Snow and Margie Rapson performed a song and dance number, "Stout City Sue". Betty Abel sang, "I'm a Big Girl Now". The "nightgown dream song" followed with the girls being appropriately attired: Verna McQuiston, Marie Hogue, Agnes Daly, Gula Galbraith and Marylou Rape; the song "Sweet and Low" was sung by Sylvester Majors and Minor Mann; a hilarious boxing bout was performed by the Houston and Clark Hammit with Louis Rosenblum as referee; Bill Polay favored the group with a comic fan dance.

The program continued with the Roxie theatre skit, participants being Mary Harvard, Carrie Sandilippo, Anita Kisthart, Mary Fulkerson and Estella Gormley.

A style show, "Now and Then", which included all styles from bathing suits to triple skirt dresses brought a vote of applause from the audience. The models were Anna Wagner, Pat Glasie, Marian Furlong, Irene Shaffer, Florence Carney, Betty Armstrong, Bill Randall and Russell Lewis. J. S. Meyer presented a skit, "Working in a Big Department Store", and the program came to a close with the grand finale.

This year's annual store party proved again to be highly successful, and much of the credit is due to the general chairman, Mrs. Martha McNally, for her efforts assisted by the committee: Genevieve Burgo, Mrs. Viola Allison, Mrs. Peggy Jones, Eleanor McKibben, Ann Jones, Shirley Smith, Millie Jones and Lela Lewis.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

What Has Happened To Full-Employment Bill

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Some members of Congress who worked hardest for its adoption are beginning to wonder what has happened to the so-called full employment bill. More than two months ago—on February 20—it was approved by President Truman, and yet no action has been taken.

As passed by Congress, the bill calls for creation of a council of economic advisers. The council is to be made up of "three members who shall be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, and each of whom shall be a person who, as a result of his training, experience and attainments, is exceptionally qualified to analyze and interpret economic developments, to appraise programs and activities of the government, and to formulate and recommend national economic policy to promote employment, production and purchasing power under free competitive enterprise."

When the bill was before Congress, President Truman said it was one of his major "must" measures. He has frequently intimated that delays by Congress were crippling his program. Yet two months have gone by and he has not appointed the economic council called for under the bill.

While it is true that the full employment bill was pretty badly watered down by Congress, it is also true that it is a powerful policy-making weapon. Under the law the President is required to submit an annual economic report to Congress containing recommendations for promoting useful employment "for those able, willing, and seeking to work."

The council would help the President prepare this report. And he is empowered to send supplementary reports to Congress if important changes in economic trends occur. Such a report, prepared with careful documentation, would have the prestige of the presidency behind it. Congress might not like the recommendations. But it would be hard to ignore them since, if the President's predictions were proved right and wholesale unemployment should follow without any action by Congress to avert it, Congress would be on the spot.

They still talk here in Washington of a prediction made by Leon Henderson in February of 1937. At that point, business recovery seemed to be assured. President Roosevelt ordered cuts in relief and public works, but Henderson based his predictions on the deep, underlying trends. He saw that monopoly prices were going up while employment was going down. On that basis he called the turn on the slump of 1938, when the business index dropped more sharply than it had even in the great depression of 1930-33.

If the Henderson report of that time had been issued with the authority of the White House, the slump of '38 might have been avoided. Instead, the report was brushed aside and, prematurely, the budget-balancers had their cake.

Interestingly enough, Henderson has been sounded out for one of the three positions on the economic council. These positions will pay $15,000 a year. Told that he had the highest number of recommendations of all those considered, Henderson sent back word that he could not consider returning to the government.

To begin with, he is making several large corporations. But there may well have been another and more important reason for his refusal.

The men around President Truman have not encouraged liberals of the forthrightness of Henderson to remain in the government. Another liberal, Robert Nathan, under consideration, also said no. Nathan is at present in France on a private mission.

The atmosphere in the White House since Truman's advent has been one of such extreme caution as to discourage any bold thinking. There has been an exodus of the young and bold men who helped frame policy in the Roosevelt administration.

Unemployment, of course, is not a major problem at this moment. The jobless figure for the first week in March was 2,710,000. That compares with 8,000,000 on J. Day.

The total is far below original expectations. But even if the number of jobs should increase as the Veterans Administration predicts, boom employment cannot increase forever. There are about 1,500,000 veterans not now classified as unemployed who soon will be looking for job opportunities.

In the time of testing and trial ahead, the President's economic council could serve an important function.

"Two days and a night," said the guide, "That grizzly did mighty hard."

"Choked to death?" asked the easterner.

"That's right," answered the guide. "Pardon me," continued the tenderfoot, "but what were you trying to get him to swallow?"

The Parent Problem

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph. D.

EMOTIONAL STRAIN OF SPEED TESTS

Judging from the letters I receive and from questions from parents at public forums the nation over, many school children, especially in the intermediate grades are still subjected to frequent speed tests and drills. For years, I have, in this column and from the platform, denounced this practice as harmful to the mental health and learning progress of children.

Of course, for administrative purposes, a test with time limits might be warranted once or twice a term. Even then, the speed factor need not be emphasized. Moreover, there is no good reason I can see why power-tests should not displace speed-tests.

What often happens is that a teacher on finding that her children rate low on one of the "standard tests" decides to bring these children up on speed by practicing them against the watch. She may even find their average speed improving some. But at what a price to nervous energy!

Besides, some of the children, because of the emotional disturbance, actually become slower. If she only used the sense she was born with she would prepare her children to perform faster by helping them improve their accuracy. If, instead of hurrying them, she would encourage them to take more time and be more careful so as to avoid saying, writing or repeating in any way, any specific fact or symbol wrong.

Speed exercises in school are most frequent in number work, especially with drill on the simple addition and subtraction facts, of which there are only 100 each. Sheets containing these basic facts and how to learn them accurately may be had in a stamped envelope by addressing me at 235 East 45th Street, New York, N. Y.

If your child is subjected to number-speed tests at school, don't criticize the teacher. She was told by some "expert" to have the drills. Aim to help him do well in these tests at school by inducing him to learn at home, in a serene atmosphere, with no watch in sight. Two, three or four of the facts like 7 and 6 are 13, or 9 from 17 leave 8, by his saying each fact over and over again while looking right at the complete fact, never trying himself out until he is sure he can say it accurately.

Mistakes Slow Up

A fact of symbol which we know well we can say or write quickly, but if we hurry while we try to learn it, we are inclined to make mistakes and mistakes always slow us up and make us feel miserable and unfit to learn more.

Most children who find it hard to spell have been hurried or suppose they should hurry while they study the spelling of a word. They may not look carefully enough at the word in the first place or may go off half-cooked at trying themselves out on the word. Some children will spell a word wrong even while looking at it so hurriedly they feel. Many others will try to spell it to themselves or write it before they have mastered its spelling.

My home helps for poor spellers may be had in a stamped envelope. How I wish I might persuade the teacher to pronounce or dictate words to be spelled, whether single or in a sentence, at about the rate of speed she usually uses up and make us feel miserable and unfit to learn more.

How I wish I might persuade the teacher to pronounce or dictate words to be spelled, whether single or in a sentence, at about the rate of speed she usually uses up and make us feel miserable and unfit to learn more.

Of course, we want children to be quick, but we don't make them quick by hurrying them. The trouble is that we have confused the process with the product. Seek first the kingdom of God and good will come to you. Precision and speed will inevitably follow.

POTATOES AND STARCH

There are three main ingredients in our food: fat, protein and carbohydrate.

Carbohydrate is a pretty big word. It takes in the starches and sugars.

Starch has to be changed into sugar in the body before it is used for heat and energy.

Potatoes are a good source of starch. They have the advantage of being an all year round vegetable. Another good thing about them is that they are good fillers. They satisfy the appetite and make the stomach feel that it has something.

Starch for the body is something like gas for an auto. It supplies the energy to make it go.

The more work the body does the more starch is needed to keep it going.

Chicken with mashed potatoes and gravy hits the spot and stays put.

DESCENDANT

I wonder, as I look upon
My old ancestral tree,
Just who, in ages that are gone,
Passed folly down to me?

What curious fellow of my line
Loved earth and sky and sea
And marigold and columbine,
And left his mark on me?

Oh, when I'm caught in folly's trap—
A sad regretful man,
I wonder just what ancient chap
Such foolishness began?

Is well enough to cry:
"Beware!"
And counsel me: "Be strong!"
But who knows just whose traits I share?

Or traits I'll pass along?

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Edmond Herriot, former Premier of France, has exhorted his fellow citizens "to abandon their attitude of grandeur" and substitute modesty and prudence.

Grandeur has always been typical of France.

There is grandeur in her history, grandeur in her cities and towns, grandeur in her heroism.

But most of her grandeur lies in her past, and Mr. Herriot is right in asking for the substitution of more timely, more practical and more becoming qualities.

It isn't France alone to whom the admonition applies.

There is too much of the grandeur complex in our everyday life. In plain English it's called four-flushings.

Look around you, and you'll see it right in your own neighborhood. You'll see people, over-dressed, over-bejeweled, over-painted, over-bearing.

You'll see them living in homes they can't afford, buying automobiles beyond their means, entertaining lavishly, indulging in luxuries that drive them into debt.

All because they want to impress other people with their importance and their affluence.

They have the grandeur complex.

Right now we are living in a world without standards, without foundation, without rhyme or reason.

Nobody knows what tomorrow will bring. Yesterday's concepts go by the board.

Every day there are new rules and regulations, new theories expounded, new philosophies promoted.

We are dizzy—dizzy with money and dizzy with uncertainty.

So we spend our money like the proverbial drunken sailors, and to the devil with the future.

It's a grand and glorious revel. Night clubs and cafes crowded. Not a ticket to be had for any good show. Millions bet at the race track every day. New automobiles ordered regardless of price or delivery date.

Sometimes I wonder whether we are humans or apes.

How long will it last?

What is in store?

How about the future?

I am not afraid. We have always come out all right before, we'll do it again.

But we won't do it with that grandeur complex.

Prudence and modesty will do it. And two more qualities which Herriot might have mentioned.

Courage and Faith.

The World and the Mud Puddles

JUST LIARS

One of the things we have been told many times by defenders of the Soviet international policies is that we ought to try to "understand those Russians." Many of us, including those in governmental authority, undoubtedly have made serious efforts to follow this admonition. Realizing the necessity for friendship between the two most powerful nations, we have tried to give proper weight to Soviet ideas and viewpoints.

But there are certain fundamentals in Communism which we are inclined to overlook—characteristics which go a long way toward explaining many acts of the Soviet government.

It is a principle of Communism, as enunciated in the official doctrine of the party, that an untruth is not a sin, but a virtue. There is no such thing as perjury under oath in Communism, because an oath is taken in the name of God, and Communism rejects God. Thus Russia's failure to keep her promise to evacuate her troops from Iran, for example, though plainly involving falsehood, involves no sense of moral guilt. The same characteristic marks her movements in Manchuria, where pledges involving Chinese rights have been coolly repudiated. It also explains the espionage in friendly Canada. The Cause is Communist interest, and deception in serving that interest is perfectly justified under the code.

Seek To Detonate 1000-Pound Bomb On Palace Grounds

LONDON, April 26.—(INS)—Bomb experts plan to detonate "Annie" today—the 1,000-pound German bomb buried 330 yards from Buckingham palace—before it explodes before the queen's jubilee.

"Annie" was discovered two days ago, ticking away in St. James park near Marlborough House, residence of Queen Mother Mary. She was the only member of the royal family in London, and was persuaded to move temporarily until the danger of the bomb explosion passes.

The volunteer disposal squad decided to detonate the bomb when efforts to use a clock-stopper device failed.

Leaping Burglar Caught By Police

PHILADELPHIA, April 26.—(INS)—
A burglar suspect, fleeing across
Philadelphia rooftops in a desperate effort to escape capture, leaped over an eight-foot areaway 100 feet above the ground today—but was caught anyway.

The suspect, identified by police as Gilbert Herr, 44 Green street near 9th, completed the leap safely, but was captured as he slid through a skylight in an attempt to make his way to the street.

With two companions, Herr was suspected of robbing the Elliott-
Lewis Electrical Co., 1017-21 Race street. One of the trio escaped, but George Herr, 37 Green street near 7th, was taken into custody.

Why get excited about "radiant heat"—heating the house by means of flues set in the floor? The Koreans have been doing it for ages.

Japs turned to charming, sympathetic Geisha girls for the pleasant companionship they couldn't get at home. Sounds familiar.

Conferences On Education Will Occur Next Week

Educational Agencies Sponsor Meetings For Consideration Of Educational Subjects

MID-WEST DISTRICT OF PSEA INCLUDED

President Joseph A. Hartman of the local branch of the mid-western convention district of the P. S. E. A., today announced the completion of arrangements for holding two conferences on educational matters here Wednesday, May 1. The first of these meetings is at four p. m. and the second at eight p. m., both being arranged for the Ben Franklin junior high school.

The conferences, of which there will be nine held throughout the state, are being sponsored by the Pennsylvania State Education association, the National Education association and the Department of State.

The discussions at the afternoon meeting will concern elementary education with emphasis on the proposed report of the Education Policies Commission.

At the evening meeting, which is not only for members of the educational profession but also for legislative representatives, service clubs, women's clubs, parent-teachers associations and veterans organizations, the subject for discussion will be the United Nations educational, scientific and cultural organization.

Will Share Program
Representatives of the NEA who will be present and lead the afternoon discussion, will be Miss Eva G. Pinkston, executive secretary of the Department of Elementary School Principals, and Dr. Glenn E. Barnett, assistant secretary of the Educational Policies Commission.

At the evening session open to the general public, the discussion will be led by Dr. Esther Brunauer, United States representative on the preparatory commission.

At the evening session, open to the general public, the speaker will be Dr. Ben M. Cherrington, chairman of the international relations committee of the National Education association and presently consultant in the State Department.

Children in the public schools will be dismissed at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday in order to allow the local teachers an opportunity of attending the afternoon session.

Assails Housing Regulations Now Hamper Building

PITTSBURGH, April 26.—(INS)—Present Civilian Production Administration policies make it almost impossible for contractors to finish work already begun before limiting regulations went into effect, charged J. M. Baldwin, Jr., Pittsburgh contracting engineer.

He said CPA regulations allow builders to continue their work but materials are not available because of other regulations.

He explained that lumber dealers refuse to sell anyone unless he holds an HH certificate issued by the Federal Housing Administration for the construction of homes. The reason, Baldwin said, is that lumber dealers are resupplied on the basis of the number of HH certificates they turn in.

Baldwin warned that the entire construction industry is threatened by this condition and that already hundreds of workers in western Pennsylvania are being laid off among them servicemen. He remarked:

"What is the sense of telling servicemen to build homes and then forcing them to be laid off. They'll never be able to pay for their homes that way."

Jap Diet Women Ignored By Men

TOKYO, April 26.—(INS)—Newly elected women of the Japanese diet complained that they are being regarded as "nuisances" by quibbling male members.

The women, who are the first feminine legislators in Japan's history, said they were ignored by male diet members on the basis of inexperience, even though 93 per cent of the new diet members are serving for the first time.

Japanese women legislators further charged male political "black-market" deals are putting the same wartime politicians in power behind the scenes.

They said oppressed women had not had time to learn parliamentary methods, but do know the difference between parliamentary and "black market" politics.

Women, added the feminine diet delegation spokesmen, have acquired equal footing with men, but the males do not realize yet that women definitely have a duty to fulfill.

Tribute Is Paid To 'Virility' Of American Autos

PHILADELPHIA, April 26.—(INS)—The Keystone Automobile Club today paid tribute to the "virility" of American automobiles and to motorists as factors which helped to pull the nation's motorists through the war years.

"There were 29,418,313 automobiles registered in the United States in 1941, an all-time peak," the club pointed out. "The total for last year, according to 'facts and figures' was 26,087,391—a loss during the war of only 3,330,922."

"That isn't bad at all," a Keystone official remarked, "considering the strain and stress of the war years coupled with natural processes which are metal as well as man. Good maintenance played an important part in car conservation."

"An approving nod must also be according to rationing, for despite its many shortcomings due to stupid thinking and experimentation, it did a right acceptable job when finally rationalized," the spokesman concluded.

Cites Atom Bomb As Exemplary Of Coordinated Work

Physicist Says Same Cooperative
Action Needed Between Nations Today

NEW YORK, April 26.—(INS)—Dr. Arthur H. Compton, noted physicist, said today that the atomic bomb demonstrates both the necessity and effectiveness of cooperative action.

Dr. Compton, chancellor of Washington university, St. Louis, told a luncheon of the National Conference of Christians and Jews that the same kind of united action is imperative in today's complex society.

He said:

"The world of today is closely interdependent. Because we are living in a world of specialization, each of us becomes more and more dependent upon others."

"Freedom in the modern world is necessarily freedom with dependence, interdependence and, consequently, cooperation, not freedom with independence."

"It is a freedom to be won only when we work together, the efforts of each coordinated with the efforts of others to achieve the result which all desire."

"Strength in the modern world comes from diversity, from the fact that we have so many different kinds of people who know how to do so many different things."

Dorothy Lamour Reports Robbery Of Jewels, Clothes

BALTIMORE, April 26.—(INS)—Dorothy Lamour, screen actress, reported to the Baltimore detective bureau today that she had been robbed of $30,000 worth of jewelry and clothing, including a $2,000 fur coat.

Miss Lamour and her husband, Maj. William R. Howard, Jr., arrived from New York by train last night for a visit with Howard's mother, Mrs. William R. Howard, Sr., at nearby Pikesville, Md.

Mrs. Howard and another son, Col. Ridgely Howard, met the couple at the depot, and the party went to the Belvedere Hotel for dinner.

Miss Lamour told police that she and her husband left the hotel in their car for Pikesville and Col. Howard drove another containing the couple's luggage.

Col. Howard, who followed the trio, reported that he found the ventilator window broken. He said he was unable to overtake his relatives to report the incident.

At Pikesville, Miss Lamour said she discovered one suitcase, with the jewelry and apparel, and the fur coat missing.

LIST 11,300 JOBS OPEN DURING MARCH

HARRISBURG, April 26.—(INS)—The U. S. employment service for Pennsylvania reported today that commonwealth employers listed 11,300 job openings with the agency during March under its job development program.

The job development drive is continuing with USES officers exerting every effort to find suitable employment for thousands of returning veterans and other job seekers with every type of skill and experience," said Director A. Allen Silewicz.

Under the plan, employers were urged to immediately report to USES offices the number of jobs available.

Britain To Divert Grain To Starving Countries Of Europe

Announce 200,000 Tons Of Grain
To Be Sent; Cut British Bread Rations

LONDON, April 26.—(INS)—The government announced that 200,000 tons of grain will be diverted to starving European nations in conjunction with a program of drastic reductions in grain consumption by the British people.

The diverted grain will come from present stock and shipments now en route to Britain and turned over to UNRRA during April and May.

The grain "loan" requested by UNRRA Director Fiorenzo LaGuardia, was made possible through assurances by the United States and Canadian governments that the grain will be replaced in the near future.

It was understood economies in the use of grain at home will take effect immediately.

Reduce Size Of Loaf
An official state issued at 10 Downing street declared henceforth the standard two-pound loaf of bread will be reduced to one and three-quarter pounds without any change in price.

It is estimated this will provide a 12 1/2 per cent saving in the amount of flour used to manufacture the regular type bread.

To effect savings in consumption of barley, beer production will be reduced to 90 per cent of the pre-war figure for the barreled brew.

Present production has been at the rate of 3.42 per cent above the pre-war level. The new regulations will mean a total of 15 per cent production decrease.

Garden Notes

By Lewis C. Dayton,
County Agent

PEAS MATURE EARLY AND ARE FAVORITES FOR MOST FAMILIES

Peas, one of the first garden crops to be planted, are popular with most gardeners since they mature quickly—in about 60 days—and provide a tasty dish that usually is welcomed by all members of the family. While peas have been seeded in many gardens, there is yet time to put them on.

Because peas are among the "cool season" crops, early growth will not be affected by slight frosts.

The late sweet varieties of peas provide a good quality for freezing purposes, as well as for table use. Both early and later varieties are suitable for canning purposes.

In the early varieties, Little Marvel, Thomas Laxton, and World's Record have been favorites. Popular late varieties include Alderman and Telephone. Between these groups are Stride, Gilbo, and Wyoming Wonder. All of these varieties may be canned or used fresh.

Among gardeners who like varieties which have a pod that is edible, and can be used similar to string beans, the Sugar Stick and White Blossom peas have been favorites.

Most gardeners plant peas in double rows, about eight inches apart. Between the rows they place poles with wire netting or strings for the peas to climb. These pairs or rows usually are spaced about a yard apart. Where supports are not used, the peas usually are planted in single rows two feet apart.

Peas should be harvested as soon as the pods are well-filled. They are then plump, of good color, and of the highest quality.

Declares American Troops In Germany Lured Into Marriage

FRANKFURT, April 26.—(INS)—A spokesman for the legal branch of the American military government in Germany said today that American troops are being "taken for a ride" by displaced European girls using every known trick to entice GI's into marriage.

He said that in Frankfurt alone, an average of two or three U. S. soldiers daily seek marriage licenses with women DP's who are either unwilling or unable to return to their homelands. Most of the women are Poles, or Baltic Nationals.

Gets Her Man

The spokesman said that GI's in Germany want sympathy, and "the first woman who gives it to him gets her man."

He revealed that many of the marriage-hungry women are "inferior types" who knocked about Germany during the war and are now unwilling to return where their actions are known. A large percentage are pregnant, he said.

Although GI's are forbidden to marry German women, the spokesman cited one instance in which the military government was forced to issue a license to a German National. She had previously been wed to an Austrian and obtained naturalization papers in Austria.

ASK NATION TO RELEASE SURPLUS BEER IN STORAGE

Protest Russia's Removal Of War Booty In Manchuria

WASHINGTON, April 26.—(INS)—State Department officials planned today to press protests against Russia's removal of war equipment from Manchuria.

The action was scheduled in the face of a note from Moscow said to reject the United States' position that these materials should be part of reparations and not war booty.

The Soviet note was reliably reported to leave the way open for further talks on the second important point raised by the United States early in February.

This involved the "open door" policy which the United States maintained was being slammed shut by a projected Sino-Russian move proposed by Moscow that the two countries jointly operate certain Manchurian heavy industries.

Recent reports have indicated that Russia's removal of industrial equipment from Manchuria may rise as high as 500 million dollars in value.

LOAN TO POLAND IS VITAL NEED

Ninety Million Dollar Loan Will Aid War-Torn Country In Reconstruction

WASHINGTON, April 26.—(INS)—American officials said today that the ninety million dollar U. S. loan granted to Poland will materially help the economic reconstruction of that country and substantially aid other European nations.

The U. S. agreed to extend the financial assistance to Poland in return for reforestation pledges given at Yalta and Potsdam to hold "free and unfettered" national elections as soon as possible.

Forty million dollars will be advanced Poland by the Export-Import Bank for the purchase of American locomotives and coal cars to facilitate movement of coal to western Europe and the Balkans. Credits up to fifty million will be extended for purchasing Army and Navy surplus materials abroad from the foreign liquidation commission.

Will Help Europe
The State department in announcing the loan Wednesday night said that it is calculated "to help the people of Europe at the same time that it helps the people of Poland, and it has been authorized with that purpose in mind."

The Export-Import Bank loan is to run for 25 years with interest at three per cent per annum for the whole period of the credit. Principal payment will be in semi-annual installments beginning in 1951 and continuing over a period of 20 years.

Poland at present is the principal source to which European countries can look for coal supplies, and officials of the Export-Import Bank said the credit will help meet the needs of France, Italy, The Netherlands and the Scandinavian and Balkan countries.

General Motors Cars Made Since Strike Not Sold

DETROIT, April 26.—(INS)—General Motors Corp. disclosed Thursday that no GM cars have been sold to the public since the end of the UAW-CIO strike which resulted in an 18 1/2 cent increase for 175,000 production workers.

The huge corporation, which normally supplies approximately 60 per cent of the nation's automobiles, said it has been unable to obtain a satisfactory price structure from the OPA.

A spokesman said that some 25,000 GM cars made before the strike had been sold but that the price agency has not granted increases reflecting increased labor and material costs since the nation-wide 113-day strike was settled last March 13.

Final 1946 prices, the spokesman pointed out, must allow for the higher labor cost stemming from the UAW wage boost, as well as higher steel prices.

IN THE OPEN

I came awake to the old familiar drumming of a ruffled grouse "walking post" somewhere on the mountain side above the cabin. The morning was clear and crisp. Suddenly the delicious aroma of country-cured bacon sizzling in the skillet brought me out from under the blankets in a hurry. The new trout season was already nearly half an hour old and there was I well to the rear of the first day stampede.

For this mid-April stream work it is well to dress warmly. I was soon swathed in old-fashioned "longies" and otherwise properly garbed in what the trout expect the well-dressed fisherman to model along the streams. The fly rod was rigged for minnow fishing, with long leader and short wire "needle", properly swiveled to prevent twisting the waxed line. I loaded up a small minnow bucket with a dozen or so of the striped dace used in this style of fishing and swung it from my belt on a three-foot rope for convenience in handling.

Finds Army of Fishermen
Thus armed I sallied forth to find that a small army of fishermen had done their salving in hour or so previously. When I clambered down the rocks to my favorite starting pool I came upon three fishermen busily engaged in putting down all trout in the neighborhood for another hour. They were splashing around at a great rate, slapping the water with huge blobs of night-crawlers and so far as I could see, scoring an even zero.

Fifty yards downstream another fisherman stood hip-deep in a prommeanders into a meadow stretch, compressed into a narrow, deep channel, and nearly arched over by a thick alder growth. Most fishermen shun this spot as too tough going but I always make at least one trip through this inferno of grape vines and alder twigs and other snags. Two-thirds of the time in this area is spent in untangling the leader from the bushes, but the other third is usually productive of excellent sport and a limit catch.

I hooked one trout well below me in this "tunnel". There was little chance to play the fish properly. He was well hooked and came slowly to the lowered rod as I reeled him straight up stream. I backed up to a spot where I could raise the rod tip and then pulled too hard. The trout came sailing out of the water and struck me a wet slap squarely in the face. Some time later I again had occasion to "derrick" out a hooked fish in similar manner. This time the fish came clear of the water and flew off the hook, landing at least forty feet back from the streamside. It was a small trout and I returned him to his pool, none the worse for wear.

Boy Offers Advice

Soon I encountered a small boy playing hooker from school and armed with the usual cut-pole and single hook. I had a pocket full of peanuts which served as introduction and we quickly became old chums. He followed along the bank as I fished and offered various advice till I had scored eight trout. Then came the usual misadventure which fell under the general heading of "fisherman's luck". I was working a deep pool, standing in yard-deep water, with one foot on a moss covered boulder. As I turned to make sure of the back cast, my foot started a slow slide which I could not stop.

I flapped around wildly trying to maintain balance, but to no avail. Slowly I sat clear down on stream bottom, wet to the shoulders. Those "longies" clung clammy as I struggled gasping to my feet and exited hastily for camp and a change of clothes.

Presbyterial To Meet In Ellwood

Shenango Presbyterial Members Select First Church At Ellwood For Next Year

Closing the afternoon session of the Shenango Presbyterial which met in the Central Presbyterian church of this city Thursday, the place committee of the conference announced that the next session would be in the First Presbyterian church of Ellwood City in the spring of 1947.

This year's conference featured talks by Mrs. Walter Clyde, director of Christian Education in the Brighton Road Presbyterian church, and Dr. D. L. Dodds, who has spent 19 years in India as a missionary and now is serving as secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian church.

Dr. D. L. Dodds Speaker

Addressing the audience of 254 women, Dr. Dodds spoke on "Changing India." The missionary has just returned from India, and was well qualified to describe the changes which are being brought about by the Indian people's contact with G.I.s of several countries and by the contact of Indian soldiers with the people of other lands where they have been serving with the British armies.

"Political and religious changes are both noticeable, with Indians becoming more tolerant of Christian teachings even though they do not accept them," Dr. Dodds asserted, pointing out that even the caste system was weakening in some places.

"These changes, however, are coming about only in the cities, and among the classes which have a chance at education," the missionary continued. "In the rural areas and among the thousands of poverty-stricken, unschooled classes, none of these changes are evident."

Cites Value Of Mission Work

Mrs. Clyde's topic was Puerto Rico, where she worked for two years. Describing the improvements in education, hospitalization and sanitation in the island since the turn of the century, Mrs. Clyde stressed the fact that even the small things done by missionary groups far away from the islands—such as packing boxes and writing letters—help those who are on the scene to carry on their work.

Organ music by Mrs. Edward Brown opened the afternoon conference, at which the newly elected president, Mrs. E. E. Moon, presided. Mrs. W. S. Blair of Sharpsville had charge of the worship service, after which Mrs. J. Willie Brewster, a member of the layman's committee, discussed the "Restoration Fund".

Prayer led by Rev. Robert L. McKibben of Mahoningtown, the treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Arthur C. Brown. At the close of the service, Mrs. A. B. Funkhauser conducted an impressive service for the installation of the officers who had been elected.

Further Cutbacks Are Being Forced By Coal Strike

CLEVELAND, April 26.—(INS)—Shutdown of the nation's steel industry and production stoppages in the automobile and allied industries by June 1 were predicted today if the soft coal strike still is in effect at that time.

The magazine Steel, in a statement to International News Service, said a nearly-complete shutdown of the steel industry was predicted on the progressive depletion and ultimate exhaustion of coal stocks by June 1.

For the week ending tomorrow, Steel said that production will be off 4½ points over last week to 70 per cent of capacity. The national rate was 89½ per cent the week before the coal strike started.

"So far the biggest curtailment has been among the Pittsburgh and Chicago subsidiaries of the U. S. Steel Corporation," a spokesman for the publication declared.

"Beginning next week many of the independent steel producers will be forced to curtail operations, forcing an accelerated drop in the national steel production figure."

He said that the Carnegie-Illinois subsidiary of U. S. Steel in Pittsburgh probably will continue until June 1 at 26 per cent of capacity.

U. S. Steel subsidiaries in Chicago, started at 60 per cent at the start of the coal strike, dropped to 40 and expect to continue at that rate until May 18 when production will be pared to 22 per cent. By June 1, the Chicago plants will close if the coal strike is not ended.

Call For 800,000 Bushels Of Wheat As State Program

HARRISBURG, April 26.—(INS)—Pennsylvania will contribute 800,000 bushels of wheat and two million bushels of corn for feeding famine-stricken nations under a program announced today by the state food conservation committee.

One-fifth of the wheat on Pennsylvania farms and 1-12th of the corn on hand will be earmarked for overseas shipment before harvest, according to Chairman Clyde A. Zehner. The committee is a branch of the U. S. Agriculture department.

"County committees of the Agriculture Adjustment Agency are negotiating with regular grain dealers so that grain can be bought from farmers and shipped directly to storage elevators," Zehner explained. Wheat supplies totaled 3,800,000 bushels as of April 1 while corn stockpiles amounted to 24 million bushels.

Fire On Farm At Evans City

BUTLER, Pa., April 26.—Fire, originating in an overheated stove on the Roy Miesel farm, Evans City, R. D. 1, on the old Franklin road, burned the one-story frame building. Loss was estimated at $1,000.

Mrs. Miesel, who was heating water for the family washing, left the building to take care of another chore. When she returned, she found the building in flames.

Firemen from the Evans City department, headed by Chief Dale Reighard and Captain Charles Schoeffel, responded, but were unable to save the building. None of the tools or equipment stored in the building could be saved.

Miss Kirkbride, pianist, will play numbers by Debussy and Chopin and will join Mr. Cameron, violinist, in a performance of Grieg's sonata for piano and violin, Op. 45.

Power Companies Asked To Conserve Supplies Of Coal

State Fears Coal Strike May Eventually Affect Electrical Power Companies

HARRISBURG, April 26.—(INS)—Pennsylvania's 60 electrical power companies were asked by the Public Utility Commission today to budget coal supplies in view of the possible "serious effect" the bituminous miners' strike may have on the generation of power.

Chairman John Higgins, Jr., said letters had been sent to utilities requesting information which was expected to help the commission draft orders authorizing "restricted service" if it was found necessary because of low coal supplies.

"What we are fearful of because of the bituminous strike is that there might be a complete shutdown of power," Higgins said. "We don't know what available supplies the companies have. Nobody knows how long the strike is going to last."

Higgins explained that the survey was designed to determine what the utilities planned to do and to enable the commission to formulate "a uniform system or policy" to meet the situation if it was necessary.

He pointed out that an order restricting service would assure hospitals, transportation facilities and public works of adequate power.

USE GOOD CULTURE TO INCREASE CORN YIELD

Good crops of corn or either grain or silage do not just happen; they are the result of good soil fertility, careful and timely planting of well-selected varieties at suitable rates, and intelligent and adequate cultivation.

Corn does best on fertile, well-drained soils, preferably warm, southern slopes, where a good sod—clover if possible—and manure have been plowed down.

In the absence of a good sod or manure, plowing down about 500 pounds of a 1-1-1 fertilizer ration, or 50 pounds of actual nitrogen, will help supply the needed plant food. Early plowing and prompt, thorough fitting puts the soil in fine mellow condition, kills weeds, and makes timely planting possible.

Select a well-tested hybrid or variety which will use most of the growing season, but which will ripen safely for grain or reach the early dent stage for silage before frost.

Anthracite Workers Ending Convention

To Vote Today On Demands To Be Made Upon Operators Next Month

HAZLETON, Pa., April 26.—(INS)—Delegates representing 75,000 anthracite workers met today to wind up the AFL United Mine Workers scale convention by voting on contract demands to be made upon the hard coal operators next month. As the important final session began the 450 delegates were pledged by resolution to support the crippling 26-day-old bituminous coal strike and to back the leadership of UMW President John L. Lewis.

The anthracite miners are authorized by terms of their 1945 contract with the operators to break off the agreement on May 31 if they so desire.

Lewis hinted in his opening address to the convention that the anthracite miners would ask virtually the same concessions which the soft coal operators have refused to grant to the 400,000 bituminous miners.

The UMW chieftain asserted that the establishment of a health and welfare fund financed by the operators was and would remain the paramount demand of the soft coal miners. He made no mention of specific wage increases to be asked by the mine workers.

Lewis, in pledging an uncompromising battle with the soft coal owners, warned that all coal contracts must "reflect the hopes and aspirations and the better protection and higher living standards" of the miners.

Will Ask Probe Of Meat Shortage

WASHINGTON, April 26.—(INS)—Rep. Sabath (D., Ill.) today charged the nation's large meat packing companies with "deliberately" creating the meat shortage and announced that he will ask for an investigation.

Sabath accused the packers of conducting a "sidewind strike" against the government and the public. The congressman made public the text of a resolution which he plans to introduce when the House reconvenes Tuesday. It provides for an investigation by the House Banking and Currency committee.

The resolution will be referred by Speaker Rayburn to the House Rules committee, of which Sabath is chairman. The committee must first approve the resolution before it can be voted on by the House.

Princess Returns To Royal Palace

LONDON, April 26.—(INS)—Princess Elizabeth returned to Buckingham Palace today while demolition experts prepared to detonate "Ticking Annie," the thousand-pound German bomb buried 350 yards from the palace.

Queen Mother Mary, who resides in nearby Marlborough house, was persuaded to move until danger from explosion of the bomb has passed.

The princess returned to London to fulfill engagements in the city. "Annie" was discovered two days ago, ticking away in St. James Park. The decision to explode the bomb was made when experts learned they would not be able to attach a clock-stopping device.

"SALOME" DEBUT DEFINITELY OFF

NEW YORK, April 26.—(INS)—The Broadway debut of Beverly Cort, the "Salome" dancer from Van Dyke, Mich., today was definitely off.

Three hours before she was to have performed her controversial veil dance last night at Billy Rose's Diamond Horseshoe police warned that if she danced the night spot might lose its liquor license.

Reason: Beverly is only 16 and city regulations prohibit performances by minors where liquor is sold.

FLAG SUPPLY HOLDS

PITTSBURGH, April 26.—(INS)—John G. Rainey, veterans' affairs director, has reported that Allegheny county will be well supplied with American flags for Memorial Day services despite a shortage in other counties.

However, Rainey added that the county will not have as many flags for distribution as in previous years. Each of the county's 25,000 graves will have a small flag, but the children at parades may go empty handed, Rainey reported.

Pennsylvania counties are required to furnish flags and markers for graves of all veterans from the Revolutionary War on, by state law.

Reveals Lack Of Fungicides And Insecticides

Raw Material Delay Cripples Supply Of Sprays For Home Gardeners, Farmers

HARRISBURG, April 26.—Largely because of delays in obtaining raw materials for processing, farmers and home gardeners of Pennsylvania will have difficulty in obtaining adequate supplies of insecticides and fungicides this season, according to Dr. Thomas L. Guyton, director of the bureau of plant industry in the State Department of Agriculture.

Bottlenecks in the supply line include labor unrest and labor shortage, packaging, transportation and distribution, he explained.

A critical shortage of rotenone, the insecticide widely used by home gardeners, is expected to continue until early summer. The present early-season shortage is said to be worse than at any time during the war.

Nicotine has been critically short, and partial relief is promised in provision this spring of approximately 80 per cent of the supply available last spring, the bureau director said.

Most reports indicate DDT mixtures will be adequate to meet demands, though processing difficulties are said to exist. Lack of definite specifications from prospective buyers also has been holding up production, he explained.

Among the materials that are scarce at this time are: all copper fungicide, supply adequate to tight, depending upon labor; calcium arsenate, supply depends upon labor developments and insect infestations; creosols and paradichlorobenzene, very tight; lead arsenate, future uncertain; zinc compounds, very scarce.

Supplies of all standard weed killers are adequate as are para grass sulphur soluble and spray oils, some wettable sprayers and cryolite.

Red Cross Board Appoints Group To Nominate Officers

Annual Meeting Is Scheduled For Last Tuesday Of June, Board Announces

Selected to draw up a slate for the election of officers at the annual Red Cross meeting in June, Mrs. Robert Garland, Dr. John McEwan, and Mrs. Thomas Kelly were appointed to a nominating committee at the meeting of the board of the Lawrence County Red Cross chapter Thursday evening.

Chapter President J. Glenn Berry had charge of the meeting, at which a number of citations were awarded. Howard B. Cummings, who was chairman of the recently-completed Red Cross fund campaign, was given a certificate of appreciation by the chapter for his work before and during the drive. In the absence of Mr. Cummings, the award was presented to Earl Leslie, one of the campaign leaders from Mr. Cummings' plant.

The Motor Corps of the local chapter was also cited by the War Finance Committee for their efforts in selling bonds and stamps from the booths on downtown streets during the war. Only one other group in New Castle has received this citation.

Miss Turner, area training representative, will be present for a Home Service meeting in the next few weeks, it was announced at the meeting. The annual meeting of the Lawrence County Chapter of Red Cross was also announced, and will be held on the last Tuesday of June. The national convention will be in Philadelphia, June 18-21.

The carpetbag boss of South Carolina said: "I figure there's five more years of good stealing." Note to black marketers: "He guessed wrong."

Detroit Contractor Saves His Money, But Gets Self Arrested

Seeking To Protect $29,400, Man Jumps Guard, Two Policemen, In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, April 26.—(INS.)—A Detroit concrete contractor didn't know today whether to be happy or sad.

In his money belt, Theophile Van Praet, 62, still had $29,400 he thought someone attempted to rob from him. But on a police docket were notations charging him with violating the firearms act, carrying a concealed deadly weapon, pointing a revolver, and assault on a policeman.

Van Praet told police someone jumped him as he strolled about a Philadelphia pier and to attract help he threw a quart bottle of whiskey through the window of a guard shack.

The crash of the bottle brought George Dee, a guard of 5406 Osage avenue, but Van Praet apparently thought Dee was also a holdup man and, according to the guard, pointed a revolver at him and pulled the trigger.

Fortunately, the pistol failed to go off.

Dee took to his heels and called police. Two patrolmen arrived on the scene, but Van Praet put up another fight, they said.

Finally subdued, Van Praet was taken into custody. He admitted to detective John Power that he had done some drinking last night.

COED ORATOR SAYS EX-GI MAKES POOR HUSBAND FOR GIRL

EVANSTON, Ill. April 26.—(INS.)—A blonde Iowa Wesleyan college senior says she will never marry a GI.

She says that the average GI displays unwillingness to work, boastfulness over war exploits, hatred, lack of manners and of refinement.

She says all this so convincingly that Miss Helen Braden, 20, of Okaloosa, Iowa, won her way to the finals of the annual Interstate Oratorical Association tournament of Northwestern University.

Defending that same thesis, she hopes to win the finals tonight. She declared:

"I want my prospective husband to be able to think for himself, rather than sit back and complain, hoping that the government will find the solution in the form of a bonus or a dole."

Miss Braden is not engaged.

The undertow at an ocean beach is caused by the recession of the waves which have rushed up on the beach. The water that has washed up must recede. Meanwhile another wave climbs over the water which is running back.

As this is repeated time and again there is a seaward-flowing current set up under the advancing waves which we call an undertow.

Five Arrested On Vandalism Charges

CARLISLE, Pa., April 26.—(INS.)—Five Cumberland county residents, three of them juveniles, were under arrest today on vandalism charges involving property damages exceeding $1000.

They were identified by Constable George Hurley as John A. Mentzer, 21, Ebert Railing, 20, Richard Walter, 16, all of Carlisle; Miss Betty Scott, 16, of Mount Holy Springs and an unidentified 14-year-old boy of Bolling Springs.

Hurley said a three-weeks' seige of wanton destruction in the area had resulted in battered mailboxes and railroad crossing signals and broken windows in a mill and school near Carlisle.

The entire furnishings of a 16-room house weighing 18,000 pounds was flown across the continent overnight under the direction of Manhattan Storage and Warehouse Co. A single airplane carried the shipment, leaving LaGuardia Field late in the afternoon and unloading at Los Angeles the next morning.

George Washington refused to accept any pay whatsoever for his personal services during the Revolutionary War. However, he did accept.

Farmers Pitch In To Aid Fire Victims

RICHMOND, Ind.—(INS.)—Farmers in three counties came to the aid of two tenant families who lost most of their livestock and equipment when fire razed the farm where they live.

Neighbors and friends of the Clarence and Willard Walker families collected $1,700 in cash for the fire victims. In addition a Muncie, Ind., milk company donated a new milking machine and the Graham Farm, Washington, Ind., replaced a herd bull burned to death in the blaze.

O. S. Williams, owner of the farm where the fire occurred, bought calves for the Walker children so they might continue their 4-H Club competition. The children lost three animals in the tragedy, including one heifer which was winner of a county grand champion award.

LATIN AMERICA MARKET
PHILADELPHIA.—(INS.)—The Keystone Automobile club disclosed today that South and Latin America have a potential demand of approximately 500,000 new vehicles. This market can only be filled between the next five to seven years by United States car and parts manufacturers, the association asserted.

Heavy Rainfall Raises Prospects For Wheat Crop

Secretary Of Agriculture Seeking To Secure All Wheat In Storage

WASHINGTON, April 26.—(INS)—Heavy rainfall throughout most wheat-growing areas of the United States today raised the prospects for supply American grain to famine-stricken peoples abroad.

Concern of government food experts over the lowest national wheat stocks in eight years and further setbacks in wheat shipments abroad for April was relieved somewhat as they measured the 1946 crop against the rising world crisis.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson and UNRRA Director LaGuardia continued their journey throughout the wheat belt, where Anderson said:

"We must break loose every single available bushel of wheat in any storage position."

Anderson declared this must be done to meet American promises to starving peoples abroad. Observers regarded his statement as a prime test for meeting American food obligations overseas and a clue to the importance of the 1946 crop for eventual replacement of farm reserves.

Agriculture department observers called the soaking rainfall a "billion dollar" downpour in view of its aid to crops in the driest April recorded in 74 years in some sections of the country.

The rain swept Oklahoma and Kansas and Eastern Texas, but missed Western Texas and New Mexico, also badly in need of a wetting.

National wheat stocks on April 1 were placed at 339 million bushels by the agriculture department yesterday—the lowest reserve since 1938.

Railroad Strike Situation Thrown Back To President

CLEVELAND, April 26.—(INS)—The next move in the May 18 strike call of two railroad operating brotherhoods was expected today from Washington.

Rejection yesterday by the general chairman of the Brotherhoods of Locomotive Engineers and Railway Trainmen of a fact-finding board's recommendation of wage increases for 293,000 railroad employees apparently has thrown the dispute back into the hands of President Truman.

The recommendation of a 16-cent-an-hour wage increase now has the unanimous rejection of all five railroad operating brotherhoods and the 15 non-operating brotherhoods. The non-operating unions turned down the proposal earlier this month and the other three operating brotherhoods announced last night that they would request a reopening of their wage dispute.

Remove Parking Meters From Area In Front Of Church

CONSHOHOCKEN, Pa., April 26.—(INS)—From now on its perfectly alright to park your car as long as you wish in front of Conshohocken churches.

City council, by a vote of 11 to 2, agreed with the Rev. Joseph W. Kavanagh, administrator of St. Matthew's Roman Catholic church, that "it is a sad commentary on the community if people have to pay to enter a church."

Council recently authorized parking meters in front of all church buildings, but agreed to their removal when a group of clergymen, headed by Rev. Kavanagh, contended worshippers should have the right to enter a church "without putting a coin into a mechanical device."

Builders Order Initiates Class

Members Honor Memory Of James Leroy Gibson, Who Died In Service This Month

At their meeting in The Cathedral, Wednesday evening, a class of eleven candidates was obligated by Master Builder Ronald Stoddard of the Order of the Builders, assisted by the degree team.

During the evening, a short memorial service was held in honor of Pvt. James Leroy Gibson, a member of the Order, who died earlier in the month in Berlin, where he was stationed with the army of occupation.

The next meeting of the order will take place on May 8, and another large class will be initiated at this time.

Further Drop In Steel Production

PITTSBURGH, April 26.—(INS)—The Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation today announced that production will drop to 22 per cent of capacity in their mills in the Pittsburgh district next week.

The new scheduled cutbacks will cause a four per cent drop from the current weekly output. No change was contemplated in the Clairton coke plant which reduced production 74 per cent, due to a dwindling coal stockpile caused by the 26-day-old bituminous coal work stoppage.

Meanwhile the Pittsburgh district weekly business index reflected the coal strike and steel shortage. The index showed a drop from 132 per cent to 128 per cent for the week ending April 26. Deliveries of iron and steel products expected to decline moderately from the already reduced levels.

To Begin Probe Of Recent Report On German Economy

Senate Judiciary Body Feels Report
Was Suppressed By War,
State Departments

WASHINGTON, April 26.—(INS)—A Senate judiciary committee was determined to find out today whether or not a report on economic conditions in Germany had been suppressed by the State and War Departments. The report was prepared by a delegation from the Council of Relief Agencies licensed to operate in Germany, which visited the American, British and French zones in February of this year.

Existence of the document came to light during a committee hearing late Thursday on a bill to amend the trading with the enemy act to permit the sending of food packages to former enemy nations.

Witness Joseph Buttenger of Pennsylvania, N. J., who represented the International Rescue and Relief Society, told the subcommittee the report was written in Paris by a seven-man delegation of which he was a member and submitted to Lt. Gen. Lucius Clay, director of the American zone.

In a subsequent telephone conversation with Clay's headquarters, the group was informed that Clay had cabled to the War Department protesting the report because he believed the delegation had overstated its authority.

Buttenger said the report had pointed out that although some relief activities were essential, there was no point in pouring unlimited amounts of food and clothing into Germany while at the same time making no attempt to put her back on a self-supporting basis.

Find Bullets To Be Special Police
Type, Slaying Mystifies Rhode Island Police

WOONSOCKET, R. I., April 26.—(INS)—Police said today that the bullets which ended the life of John "Big Jack" Letendre, Narragansett race track director, were of a special police type which produce a dum-dum effect on hitting the target.

Investigators said the two slugs fired into the body of Letendre Tuesday are about a quarter of an inch longer and thicker than the standard .38 calibre.

What conclusions detectives were ready to draw from this information was not made known. However, it was disclosed that police also were checking all details of a plane trip which Letendre made from Florida to Woonsocket two weeks before he was murdered in gangland style.

A week before he left Miami, Letendre's wife, it was said, flew back here. When he returned the following Saturday he made an overnight stop in New York City at a hotel where more than 15 telephone calls were made from his room.

This angle of the investigation was being pressed in the light of rumors that before leaving Miami, Letendre had been warned to "square up" with representatives of the Chicago gambling syndicate he reportedly had clashed with in Florida.

Meanwhile, a man from Franklin, Mass., was held on a charge of drunkenness. He was accused of pulling the hoax in which Mayor Dupre was told by telephone to stand by for the arrest of Letendre's slayer. The prisoner also was said to have sent an anonymous letter to a Woonsocket newspaper in which the writer said he killed Letendre by mistake.

Young Student
Has Attended 23
Different Schools

CANNELTON, Ind. (INS)—Eleven-year-old Ann Brubaker can give competent advice to any lonely youngster trying to adjust his education to a strange school.

Ann already has attended 23 schools in 10 states and is scheduled to make another move this month. The little girl is the daughter of a United States geological survey engineer assigned to the task of making topographical maps.

Her parents consider the state of Pennsylvania their home, but Ann, who was born in Altona, Pa., never has attended school in the Keystone state.

In addition to Indiana, the other states which have contributed to the youngster's formal education are Maine, Florida, Mississippi, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Vermont, New York and Pennsylvania.

Ann thinks it's fun changing schools but admits she feels unhappy when she must leave the friends she makes at each school.

Swiss Move To

Young Children

Charities Organization Plans Helping Displaced Persons In German Camps

BERN.—(INS)—Although it still is concerned with relief activities in other war-stricken countries of Europe, the Swiss Charities Organization for Victims of the War now is concentrating on displaced adults and children in German camps.

Recently, the Swiss sent a transport of badly needed materials, including textiles, shoes, medical goods and playthings to various children's camps in Germany. Other shipments will follow.

The first aid to displaced persons in Germany was to those persons afflicted with tuberculosis. The first help for the German civil population will be given to children in the cities of Saarbrücken, Mainz, Coblenz, Cologne and Aachen.

The Swiss Charities group plans to erect centers in these places in which nursing and teaching can be given to 1,000 children daily for a period of 100 days. In Cologne and Aachen, 2,000 children will receive this help.

Besides this German mothers with nursing infants and prospective mothers will receive a milk ration for the 100-day period.

The Swiss also intend to send material for children's clothes to these

ENROLLMENT RECORD

CHICAGO.—(INS)—Veterans Administration officials predict the more than 7,000 veterans enrolled in Chicago's larger educational institutions indicate only a preview of the expected record-setting summer enrollment. The larger schools believe they can accommodate only a fraction of the number who apply for enrollment.

SUMPTER, Ore.—(INS)—Being a ghost town for four years during the recent war hasn't permanently killed Oregon's famed gold mining town of Sumpter. Practically deserted after Pearl Harbor, Sumpter boasts 200 inhabitants on its way back to the peak of 3,000 attained in its heyday in 1901.

Giant Policeman Was Hard To Clothe: Kept 'Chow' Supplies Scant

SCRANTON, Pa.—(INS)—The army now breathes in relief. For six foot, seven-inch John J. McNamara, of the Air Forces, has been discharged.

That means that the moment the corporal at the separation center reached way up in the air to hand McNamara his discharge papers the army was relieved of—

(1) Worry how to outfit the towering ex-GI.

(2) Worrying how to keep enough chow in the kitchen to feed him.

And it also means—and any recently discharged GI can sympathize with McNamara on this—that the big former MP now has to begin worrying about his own supply problems.

Really Has Worries
Hard enough it is for the average sized man to find a decent suit of clothes or an overcoat or a pair of shoes, but when you're six foot seven, you really have worries.

Back home following his release, McNamara described his first trying days in the army. Differing from most new soldiers on whom initially issued uniforms are generally too big, the Scranton ex-GI spent his first two months in "partial civilian clothes."

"The only thing they had to fit me," he said, "were caps and ties."

The supply problem took some time to solve, McNamara explained, but there was another problem for McNamara when he was discharged. He declared, "was sleeping. The bunks were too short for me and I had to sleep curled up all the time."

Good natured and friendly, McNamara had only two complaints to voice after his discharge.

(1) He claimed it took him six

Costly Markers

Dogs And Cats Are Interred In Fine Caskets; Have Expensive
Headstones

ST. LOUIS.—(INS)—At Florissant, Missouri, is a cemetery—the last resting place of more than 400 pets. Buried there are dogs, cats, a monkey, and a canary bird.

Some are buried in fine old solid copper caskets. Their graves are marked by headstones which, in many cases, cost the owners of the pets from $300 to $400. Every grave is marked with the animal's name—the year of its birth and death—the same as graves of humans.

Dr. C. F. Bauer, a veterinarian, operates the grounds, known as the Pioneer Dog cemetery. He has tended the four-acre plot for 24 years.

The newest grave is that of a nameless dog. Its known history began in a foxhole somewhere in the Pacific.

Soldier's Dog
"This was a soldier's dog," said Dr. Bauer.

CHICAGO.—(INS)—When W. D. Hill is told to sign on the dotted line he has to ask whether to sign W. D. Hill, Edward J. Kelly or R. B. Upland.

As deputy comptroller of Chicago his job is to sign documents for the mayor and the chief comptroller. From 12,000 to 15,000 signatures of Mayor Kelly appearing each year on tax warrants, bond issues and water certificates are in Hill's handwriting.

One of his biggest jobs recently was signing "Edward J. Kelly" 2,900 times for a 26 million dollar slum clearance bond issue.

Detroit Takes Lead By Beating Browns As Red Sox Wallop Yankees

PIRATES SLAM CARDINALS AROUND

NEW YORK, April 26.—(INS)—Detroit and Brooklyn are the new undoubted occupants of the drivers seats in the pennant races today, but perhaps more significance is that one of baseball's most persistent jinxes has been cracked.

The Cincinnati Reds, who had been able to beat the Chicago Cubs only once since 1944, turned on their temerarious yesterday and clawed the Braves to the tune of 7 to 5.

Pirates Trip Cards
The St. Louis Cardinals yielded first place to the Brooklyn Dodgers, with whom they had been tied, when they lost to Pittsburgh 5 to 3. Ralph Kiner of the Blues belted out a 450-foot homer and also knocked in another run.

In the American League, Detroit went into the lead by nocking out the Browns with a two-run rally in the eighth, 6 to 5, while Boston was beating New York. Hal Newhouser, premier southpaw, racked up his third straight win for the Tigers.

Pesky Hits Hard
Johnny Pesky got two doubles and two singles, and Ed Pellagrini socked a homer, triple and double as the Red Sox swamped the Yankees, 12 to 5, and tied them for second place.

Chicago's White Sox collected 17 hits in slaughtering Cleveland, 11 to 2.

A perfect squeeze bunt in the ninth by Nanny Fernandez gave the Boston Braves a 5 to 4 triumph over the New York Giants.

A foul broke one of Walker Cooper's fingers, and the $175,000 catcher will be lost to the Giants for a month.

Denies Harvard Is Quitting Football

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 26.—(INS)—William J. Bingham, Harvard university director of athletics, denied today a report that the university planned to give up formal football and that Coach Dick Harlow would resign.

Bingham termed the story in Harvard Crimson "a hoax."

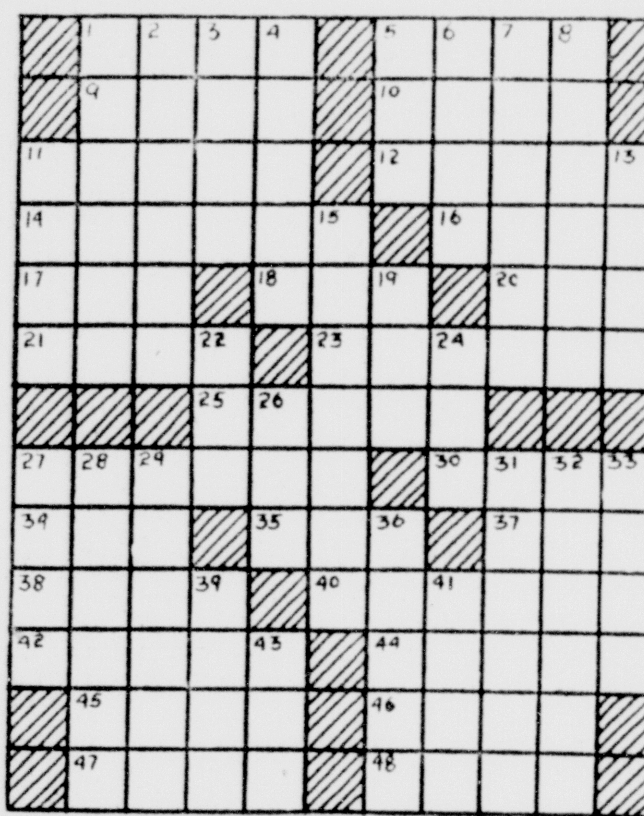

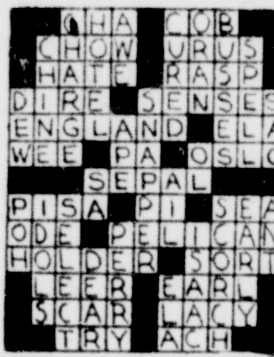

"I am chairman of the athletic committee and I certainly would know if such a thing were true."

In the Crimson story it was stated President James B. Conant of the university had notified Bingham to cancel all games on the 1946 football schedule.

Sam Henny, of Clearfield, who brought Penn State the outstanding wrestler award at this year's Eastern title tourney, is looking forward to a career in law. The 24-year-old war veteran will enter Dickinson Law School in June.

F.&M. Names New Track-Field Coach

LANCASTER, Pa., April 26.—(INS)—Franklin and Marshall College announced Thursday that George D. McGinnis, a faculty member and World War II veteran, had been appointed track and field coach.

John D. Taylor, a faculty member and former tennis coach at Haverford high school, was named mentor for the F&M racket squad. He recently returned to the college after serving in the army. McGinnis was graduated from West Chester State Teachers College.

Men of Action
Keep Looking Young
with RANGER
All-Elastic Shorts

by Freeman

Thousands of men wounded in war were saved because plasma as a blood substitute was discovered through the use of dogs.

Take the WASTE from your waist-line with Ranger Shorts...middle magic that makes you look years younger. Made of all-elastic, this trimmer makes you look inches slimmer. And best of all...you never know you've got it on—doesn't bind...doesn't pull! And it does give you the gentle support needed by men of action.

Protect Your Car Against Fumes

Your comfort is important and 3-M Underbody Protective Coating does a real job in promoting comfort and protecting your health against fumes and dust. It seals seams and cracks in the underbody so that drafts, exhaust fumes, dust and moisture are kept out. This alone is worth what it will cost for an application of 3-M Underbody Protective Coating.

Many Superstitions Cling To Bayous Down In Louisiana

By KENNETH L. DIXON
(Distributed by International News Service)

BATON ROUGE, La.—It would be next to heresy to leave this land of the bayous and the cotton barges without a word about the superstitions and the voodooes which still live and breathe among the moss-hung trees.

That, even in this modern age, such things should exist seems less unreal after you've spent days driving or walking through the deep swampy southern timberland—where shadows turn into sheer blackness and people move in ghost-like invisibility—where poisonous snakes wriggle their slimy clumsy bodies into the swamp water scant feet from your unprotected leg and you leap in frightened terror at the perfectly normal, healthy croak of a bullfrog.

Many Strange Beliefs
Then, as you realize that generation after generation of people have been born, have lived and have died amidst this dark undergrowth—not confined to Louisiana, either—it's much, much easier to understand why they still subscribe to cores of such beliefs as these:

Allment superstitions—smoking Jimson weed will cure asthma and a snakeskin belt will end your backache . . . burn a reed and let the smoke rise into a snakebite and the poison will vanish . . . pierce your ears and wear earrings to prevent blindness . . . wipe the legs of a baby with a greasy towel every day and he won't be howleged . . . wrap a broken limb in clay mud and it will knit . . . squeeze a frog to death in your hand and your chills and fever will disappear . . . chicken gizzard or catnip tea will cure a child's colic . . . touch a dead person and then touch your soles and it will vanish . . . a string with nine knots hung around your neck will cure your headache . . . and tea made out of roaches is good for lockjaw.

Also, in case you didn't know it, the milk from fig trees will cure ringworm—or so the folks along the levee say—and a garlic bag around the thumb will stop tooth-ache.

If you have a wart, just pass it over a dead person and it will fade away, while holding a catfish in front of a child with whooping cough will stop that malady.

Candy made from Jimson weed will cure the worms and—but then, maybe you have a few enemies around the globe and would rather do something to them. Try these tricks:

To drive a woman crazy, sprinkle nutmeg in her left shoe every night at midnight . . . to make her drown herself, get a piece of her underwear, turn it inside out and bury it at midnight and put a brick over its "grave" . . . to get rid of a rival in love, put his name in some ashes and let the chickens pick in the ashes.

To kill by voodoo, take a picture of the planned victim, bury it face downward while burning a black candle and the victim will die a horrible death as the picture fades . . . or bury something belonging to the person and his liver will rot.

Thousands Of Taboos
And all through the land where the swamp grass grows, there are thousands of taboos. If you want to avoid bad luck, never raise your foot higher than your head, never break a broom handle or kill a black cat. Don't walk on salt, peanut shells or onion peels and never sweep your porch after sundown.

If you want to win a case in court, go to the trial with a luck bead under your tongue and it will deaden the tongues of your accusers . . . if you're a man and want to win a girl's love, take some of her hair and sleep with it under your pillow . . . if you're a girl and want to grab a particular boy friend, place his picture behind your mirror.

Oh, voodoo's good for everything, they say in New Orleans that a collector or salesman will never return if you sprinkle salt after him . . . and a bad neighbor will go away if you kill a black chicken and throw it over his house.

And the kind of conjure ball that will bring you good luck forever, must be made of a snake tooth, a piece of human flesh and a lock of human hair . . . but it's easier, so they say along the levee to have a jet-black girl rub your head every morning at 8 o'clock for eight days.

You think all this is funny? Okay, neighbor. Did you ever see an atom? No? But suppose someone told you how to save yourself from an atom bomb—like maybe digging a deep hole in the ground. Would you start digging?

If you wouldn't, then go ahead and laugh, chum, laugh.
